

STEPS ALONG THE PATH : OUR RECORD OF WORK TOGETHER

1
Getting in touch

Working with social work and other services to overcome harm can be a process with many steps. It's useful to keep track of the concerns a person has at each step and how these are responded to. As you work together you can fill in each step working across each row and then moving on to the next as your work together develops. It means you can look back and see where you've come and also have an idea of what steps are next that you might want to think about.

2
Preparing to meet

3
Everyone round the table

4
Putting the plan into action

5
Reviewing how the plan works

	Person's concerns	Person's feelings	Response of those helping	Decisions made together about next steps

